INTEREST SHOWN IN FARMERS' BUREAU

Seventeen Counties in Kentucky Now Organizing and Others Expected to Follow.

Farmers in seventeen Kentucky counties are now organizing Farm Bureaus and the number is expected to increase soon, according to Geoffrey Morgan, State agent of the Agricultural Extension Division of the University of Kentucky, who returned Friday from a tour of Western Kentucky.

In Henderson county 400 farmers have already pledged as members, and a goal of 1,000 has been set. The same spirit is being shown in Union, Logan and other counties, Mr. Morgan said, and the movement seems to be gaining strength in every part of the State.

The purpose of the bureau is to aid the farmer in every way, and not to fight the merchant or any other organization. Some of the objects sought are a central headquarters for farmers in the county seat where his womenfolk and children may rest and have their parcels sent; where he may dictate his business letters to competent stenographers; learn the market price of all his products at any hour by telephone or personal visit; meet his friends and have meetings.

By organizing the farmers by counties and states it is also hoped to stabilize the markets for certain periods, thus reducing the cost of living and preventing the hardships now worked upon farmers who must take a lower price for their live stock while the retail price of meats is not lowered.

BOYS' BAND GIVES FREE CONCERT AT MINERVA

En route from Augusta, where they had furnished the music for the big Bracken County Soldiers and Sailors Home-coming Saturday night, the Maysville Boys' Band gave a popular concert at the store of C. L. Mains & Co., at Minerva, and, according to the Minerva folks, they made a big "hit."

A large crowd of people of the Minerva community happened to be at the store doing their Saturday night shopping, and as soon as the word was passed that the Boys' Band was in town, the crowd was augmented by as many of the citizens of the town as could find standing room in the big store.

Their playing brought encore after encore, and the applause each time was tumultuous. At the close of the concert the Maysville boys were given a "treat" by Messrs. Mains and Galtier, proprietors of the store, and everybody went home happy as a lark.

Mr. Ray Loviner of Portsmouth, O., was the week end guest of Miss Jennie Rudy of Forest avenue.

PASTOR PREACHES ON NO ACCIDENT WEEK ON SUNDAY

Stop! Look!! Listen!!! Is Topic of Dr. John Barbour's Sermon on Sunday Evening.

Dr. Barbour in his sermon Sunday night at the First Presbyterian Church responded to the request of the Railroad to announce the "No Accident Week" beginning October 18 from his pulpit. His text was Eph. V. 15. "See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise."

He said: The vast toll of life from all classes of our population by accidents in factories, at railroad crossings and in all our occupations justifies the call on the clergy to help in the effort to bring about a more careful habit in all our life. Paul gives the keyword for all our life in this regard. A man should walk circumspectly, i. e., looking around carefully knowing "where he is at" all the time, and taking in his surroundings.

There are dangers all about us, and we should keep our eyes open and our ears alert. Some of these no forethought, nor care can avoid, but most of them can be traced to carelessness in the victim or lack of consideration and proper protection of the public by corporations.

Last year in the observance of No Accident Week in St. Louis there was only 1 man killed against 24 who lost their lives a year before in the same time. He was drunk and fell from his wagon. That was a remarkable demonstration of what can be accomplished by careful attention to this matter.

When you consider the economic value to say no more, of all these lives lost or lamed you realize what a tremendously important matter this is to the business and social life of the country. These accidents are by no means confined to the young and inexperienced or to the shiftless classes of the community. Many of our best and presumably most thoughtful people fall in this holocaust of the week.

When you carry this warning into the moral and religious realm how surpassingly important does it become. Men and women are falling like moths into the candle with their eyes open, but surely not with full survey of their actions. "In vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird" as the book of Proverbs reminds us—and even a rat will be too smart to be caught after he sees two or three of his companions snared but men and women go on time and again like birds under the charm of a cat into certain danger. Over every human path should be posted in some way the words, Stop, Look, Listen. It is for your life. The preacher carried the suggestion into the line of duty and opportunity that often comes as suddenly to us, and which we should be ready to avail ourselves of. Some of the greatest discoveries have thus been come upon, but they fell before the observation of trained minds, and a skill which could improve by experience.

The wise man is he who uses the faculties and the "chances" that he has. The "fool" in the scripture is not the fool for lack of sense, but one who will not use what mind he has. It is plead often times in excuse that one is so absorbed that he did not see, did not realize his surroundings. The plea is seldom a justified one. We are not to be so absorbed in business or in pleasure that we cannot pay attention to the people that are about us, and know the elements of good or evil always surrounding us.

We are to walk with circumspection in the spiritual world to which we belong. The greatest factor in our life at all times is God. He is our great and enduring environment, the "Heart of Love, enfolding all". It is very foolish then and will be very disastrous for us to forget God, and the heavenly witnesses of our daily life.

SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS EXPECTED TO BE LARGE

Dr. J. S. Locke, Former Local Health Officer, in Charge of Christmas Seal Sale in Kentucky This Year.

Dr. J. S. Locke, of Louisville, former local health officer, was in Maysville today for a visit with his family en route to Louisville after a trip over a part of the state in the interest of the Christmas Seal sale for this year for the benefit of preventing tuberculosis.

Dr. Locke, is in charge of the Anti-Tuberculosis campaign in the state of Kentucky and is therefore in charge of the seal sale. He is expecting an unusually large sale of the seals this year and says that he knows Mason county will do its full share. The seals, which are beautiful, are sold at ten cents and are quite useful in preparing Christmas packages or in sealing Christmas mail.

Dr. Locke expects this year to have every school child in the state of Kentucky sell ten stamps and if this is possible a great sum of money can be raised for the fight against the great White Plague. The doctor stated that all of the money raised through the sale of these stamps in Mason county would be used for the work of the Mason County Health League.

MASON COUNTY IS CALLED UPON TO CONTRIBUTE $4,000

Mason County Is Given an Opportunity to Show Its Appreciation For Kentucky Children's Home—Has Cared For 70 of Our Children.

Mr. L. N. Harvin, field agent for the Kentucky's Children's Home met with members of the Maysville Settlement Club and other interested citizens at the County Commissioner's room in the Court House this afternoon to discuss the part Mason county is going to take in the great campaign now under headway throughout the state to give to the orphan children of the state a new home on a small farm near Louisville.

Mason county has been asked to contribute $4,000 toward a fund with which to purchase and furnish this farm home for the Kentucky Children's Home Society. This home has cared for 70 Mason county orphans since its organization and within the past eight or ten years they have taken 25 orphans from Mason county. The County Fiscal Court has been contributing to the upkeep of the home but this is the first time they have called upon individuals to make a contribution.

The campaign in the county will be handled through the county school teachers and the Community Clubs and the Maysville Settlement Club has been asked to care for the campaign in the city of Maysville.

The officers of the home say that the children need to be in the country instead of a stuffy building in the city of Louisville and the interest that is being shown over the state indicates that we in their own home in the country before long. The people of Mason county will most certainly do their full part.

Mrs. James Sidell, aged 53 years, died at her home on the Second street Extension near Bridge street, shortly after noon today after an illness of several weeks of paralysis. She is survived by her husband, four daughters and one son. Funeral arrangements are not yet made.

The first rehearsal for the big home talent minstrel to be given under the direction of "Gov." Bowen, famous minstrel star, was held on Sunday and there were many local people present to take part. The minstrel promises to be an unusually good one. All Maysville home talent shows are always good.

MORE MONEY FOR THE ELECTION OFFICERS

The note signed by the election officers of the Second ward and pinned to the registration book from that ward in which these officers asked the County Commissioners to pay the officers of election more money for their work has caused considerable comment.

There is no one we have heard discuss the matter but who are in favor of increasing the per diem allowed these men. Everyone knows that it is worth more than two dollars a day to sit around the election polls and count the votes. The work itself is not only worth it but the men who do this service are called from their regular work and they should be paid something near the salary they make at their regular daily tasks.

There are few cities and counties in the state who do not pay their election officers more than Maysville and Mason county and this matter should have the serious attention of the Commissioners.

As our County Commissioners are having monthly meetings to keep the county's debts paid up promptly they should also consider these men in the future and instead of waiting several months or a year for their pay, the election officers should have their pay promptly.

LET THE PEOPLE BE THE SLEUTHS

Attorney General Morris, of Kentucky, is out in a statement that the present High Cost of Living can be reduced if the people will report the offenders to the Commonwealth Attorney of their district.

This is one way of doing the thing, we guess but it reminds us of an old howl that we have often heard from officers who have no inclination to get busy on the job and do some sleuthing. The little job of serving papers does not make a good officer. We have often heard officers when taken to task about not stopping a nuisance, say, "Well get a warrant out for the offender and we'll arrest them." That's one way of doing it but if that were all that was necessary from an officer one would be enough for any community.

Men make good officers who are good sleuths—any one can serve papers when they have the law behind them and a little brawn in some instances.

It is well enough for citizens who know of flagrant profiteering to report the profiteering business man to the Commonwealth's Attorney but what we want is some one to do some sleuthing and bring the thing to an end.

If we're going to have a Corn and Tobacco Fair this fall it appears that its about time to get busy on the job and if the Chamber of Commerce is not going to undertake it, they should say so. We believe that live-wire farmers' organization just started can put the thing across if the Chamber of Commerce don't undertake it.

Tom Russell or Enoch Grehan should invite Jim Allen over to either Maysville or Lexington during the appearance of so many girly shows in these two towns. Jim would enjoy the beautiful scenery in these shows.

TAFT BLAMES WILSON FOR LEAGUE ATTITUDE

Is Defeating Good in Covenant By Attitude Toward Any and All
All Reservations.

Washington, October 11.—Blame for his uncompromising attitude toward the Republicans in the Senate who are seeking to amend the league of nations covenant is laid at the door of President Wilson by former President William H. Taft.

"What is his present duty?" Mr. Taft asks. "It is to face the facts as they are and to make the best of them. It is to secure as mild reservations as he can and in good faith urge acquiescence in them by other signatories of the treaty."

"The President is certain that the people by a great majority are for a ratification of the treaty. He has satisfied himself of this by his trip. But the majority of the people are reported, even by the correspondents on the President's trip, to be for ratification with safeguarding reservations, and this thought they may not have the form of those reservations clearly in mind. One gets a general idea of public opinion on such a trip as the President's; but, as Mr. Bryan and others have found, he must be aware of taking too rosy a view of the good will of an American crowd, anxious to see and hear a leader, especially a President or a presidential candidate. His opportunities do not enable him safely to discriminate between public opinion in favor of unconditional ratification and that for reservations."

"If his present policy is persisted in and the treaty is rejected, the President cannot escape responsibility for the result. The Senate's consent by two-thirds is essential to the making of the treaty. That body has a duty equal to his and has a right to make conditions in ratifying. The President must recognize exercise the influence he has over the Democrats who follow him to secure the best compromise he can which will leave a useful league. By leading his supporters away from cooperation with Republican pro-leaguers he courts rejection. In so doing he subjects himself to the same criticism he makes against the 'bitter enders,' for supporters of the league may well say that in face of a great world need he is sacrificing to his personal impatience the chance of securing not all he would have the league be, but much of inestimable value. Let us hope the President will conclude to save the treaty by a statesmanlike compromise. To seek rejection rather than a compromise in order to make a winning issue at the next election is to yield to a political motive."

NO PEACE THROUGH FORCE

The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace is one of the greatest influences for peace in this country, efficiently organized and permanently sustained through the enlightened benefaction of Mr. Carnegie. In 1910 he set aside the sum of $10,000,000 for its establishment, to be administered by a board of trustees "from century to century without end." As described by the donor, the purposes of the Endowment are "to hasten the abolition of international war, the foulest blot upon our civilization."

"Lines of future action," commented Mr. Carnegie, "can not be wisely laid down. Many may have to be tried, and having full confidence in my trustees I leave to them the widest discretion as to the measures and policy they shall from time to time adopt, only promising that the one end they shall keep unceasingly in view until it is attained, is the speedy abolition of international war between so-called civilized nations."

In the exercise of the unlimited discretion with which the trustees of the Carnegie Endowment are clothed, they have adopted the theory that peace can never come by force, but rather must be attained through the education of the people to the folly of war. To that end they have caused to be printed numerous works on war and its evil effects, and have arranged many lectures by prominent men from this country and abroad on the subject. Equally in conformity with that principle the Endowment has studiously refrained from contributing money to associations that advocate the realization of peace through the application of force. The League to Enforce Peace, headed by Mr. Taft, has never received aid from the fund.

Not only has assistance been refused to those who would bring about peace through war, but the most prominent trustees of the Endowment are among the prominent critics of the league of nations as being essentially an instrument to compel peace. The President, Elihu Root, is unalterably opposed to the league as it now stands, and has proposed several radical amendments to it. Dr. David Jayne Hill, perhaps the most eminent authority on international law and European politics in the country, has expressed himself in a series of articles and addresses in condemnation of the covenant's provisions. Nicholas Murry Butler of Columbia University and Charlemagne Tower are also outspoken critics.

If these great men who help shape the policies of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace condemn the league of nations as an instrument for the prevention of war what distrust must arise in the minds of the people at large? These experts have given profound study to the best means for bringing permanent peace to the world, and have become convinced that a peace of compulsion can never endure. That any peace that may come from the operation of the league of nations will be of that sort must be admitted by every student of the covenant.

FESS AGAIN CHAIRMAN

Washington, October 13.—Representative Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, was re-elected chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee, and will therefore conduct the campaign for the election of a Republican House in 1920.

Catarrrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. DOCTORS DELINQUENT

Carlisle, Ky.—The report of the grand jury contained the following charge: "It has been called to the attention of the grand jury that some of the physicians of the county have not been fully complying with the provisions of the laws regarding reporting cases of contagious and infectious disease in their charge and using proper precaution regarding the quarantining of such cases. We are reliably informed and our personal knowledge leads us to believe that a great amount of the sickness and deaths due to the spread of such diseases might be prevented if some of these offending physicians would be more careful and prompt in obeying the health laws on this regard."

TINY FARMERETTE BOOSTS FARM HOME

This is Virginia, in her overalls and blue denim shirt, dressed up like a real farmerette. Virginia has a happy home now, out in the country. But there was a time when she knew what it was to be without a home.

She was taken, a homeless waif, to the Kentucky Children's Home Society in Louisville. There she was given medical care and brought to health, and given the best of care that the attendants at the home could give her until a real home with a family was found for her.

Now Virginia is one of the many little school girls of the state who is going to help build a home for the homeless. When Virginia was in the Children's Home she had to spend most of her time in a nurse room crowded with other waifs. There was no big, sunny playground, and the schoolroom was crowded and poorly lighted and ventilated. There was not the proper amount of hospital equipment to care for the younger babies who came in. And the furniture and surroundings were cheerless, while Virginia waited for foster parents to take her away.

Under the plan of the school children of the state, all the children who have homes will be given an opportunity to help build a home for the Kentucky children who have none. It will be a fine, modern institution on a farm near St. Matthews, thoroughly equipped with hospital wards, kindergarten and schoolrooms, and with clean, airy bedrooms and baths.

And, best of all, there will be a big playground on the farm, with lots of fresh air and sunshine; and there will be cows and chickens, and fresh milk and eggs and vegetables for the children in the new home. That is what the $800,000 will be used for the fund that the school children of the state will raise in the last week of October. It is a "Children's Crusade," and the grown-up children will be allowed to get in on it and help, too.

We have all helped the French and the Belgian children. Now let the Kentucky children.

The letter warns that it is unlawful to sell milk made of skimmed milk powder, water and fats as pure milk, and if such manufactured product is put on the market it must bear a label stating ingredients.

Why Central Can Not Answer Questions

The duty of the switchboard operator is to answer your number calls and get connections for you.

If she stopped to answer questions, the number of calls would pile up and the service would be delayed; this would be an injustice to the other subscribers.

When in response to a question, the operator says: "I will give you Chief Operator," she is obeying her instruction.

If you cannot find what you want in the telephone directory, ask the operator for "Chief Operator" and she will connect you with the "Chief Operator" where your questions will be promptly answered.

WILL ENDEAVOR TO BEAT OWN RECORD

Flying Parson Who Won Over-Nation
Air Flight Will Endeavor to Beat
His Own Time.

San Francisco, October 13.—Lieut. B. W. Maynard, the "flying parson," who led in the air race across the continent, is making changes in the structure of his airplane, which will make it even more speedy, and expects to leave here for his return flight Tuesday, in an attempt to beat his own record.

Refreshed by an enforced over-Sunday rest, 40 of the 62 original starters took the air at controls all the way from Mineola to here, to take up the trail completed Saturday by Lieut. Maynard, Major Carl Spatz and Lieut. E. C. Kiel, the three race leaders.

Four fliers who entered at San Francisco started the day today with good prospects of reaching Mineola by night, while five of the westbound fliers were within a day's flight, barring accident, of San Francisco.

Major Spatz and Lieutenant Kiel, who finished within 20 seconds of each other, are fitting new wings to their machines, according to reports from Mineola, because the original ones were strained by the buffeting of wind and rain. They expect to be able to start back Wednesday.

Mrs. Jerome Wate Stewart of Flemingsburg, was shopping in the city today.

McUTCHEON STORY FOR PEGGY HYLAND

Peggy Hyland in the well-known story, "Cowardice Court," by George Barr McCutcheon, will be the feature at the Pastime tomorrow. The production, which was made by William Fox, is said to follow very closely the theme of Mr. McCutcheon's book, including the feud between rival rich families in the Adirondacks, the meeting in the haunted house, and the heroine's flight from home at night, in a tremendous storm, to the house of the owner of the adjoining estate.

A great many people see in "Cowardice Court" a satire on the idle rich, and the photoplay is said to emphasize the delicate vein of humor through which the peculiarities of the principal characters are developed. An English lord married to an American girl; a duke and a count who make love to all the married women; a Chinese cook and an English girl and an American youth are the chief types.

MINERVA STUDENTS BUY DICTIONARIES FOR SCHOOL

The students of the Minerva Consolidated Schools have caught the spirit of their community in contributing of their time and money to the upbuilding of their school. When their attention was recently called to the fact that the school was in need of a number of standard dictionaries for use in the upper grades and in high school, the Minerva students gave of their own money sufficient to purchase dictionaries for all the high school rooms and for the two upper grade rooms. The new dictionaries arrived yesterday, and quite naturally the Minerva boys and girls are proud of their gift to their school. They are to be commended for their generosity toward their school. It smacks of good citizenship.

JOE BOYER WINS 250-MILE AUTO RACE AT CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, Ohio, October 13.—Joe Boyer won the 250-mile automobile race at the Cincinnati speedway Sunday, his average time being 101.69-100 miles an hour. Art Klein finished second and Kurt Hicke third.

Boyer, off to a good start, practically led his field all of the way and finished an easy winner. From the drop of the flag to the end he never entered the pit.

Several postponements and threatening weather resulted in a small attendance. The race was not marred by even a minor accident.

GREAT RALLY AT THIRD STREET M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL

Sunday School Rally Proves Great Success—Many See Beautiful Pageant at Night.

The Sunday School of the Third Street M. E. Church had its biggest and best rally day yesterday. The whole day was given over to the rally day exercises. As will be noted the attendance struck a new high record of 253. The following classes are on the honor roll for being star classes—every member present: The Epworth, Brotherhood, Anti Cants, Golden Hours, White Tigers, Beginners and Lives Wires. The largest class was the Epworth with fifty eight in attendance. This class also took the rally day banner for having the largest collection. The Sunday School Bible was awarded to Miss Catherine Cablish for certificates of the largest number of certificates of "Rally Day Stock." It was truly a great, enthusiastic school. After the lesson period came the great event of the morning—the promotion exercise. Twelve "Beginners" dressed in cap and gowns like sure enough graduates, filled down the aisle to the platform where they gave a real "commencement" program. The Junior Superintendent, Miss Virginia Mae Hurd then presented each with a certificate of promotion. In doing this she commended in the highest terms the faithful work done in the "Beginners" department by the teacher, Mrs. Chas. Flist. A greater lover of children or a more efficient worker with them cannot be found anywhere. Fortunately, indeed, are the parents who can have their children pass through the "Beginners" department of this school with such an efficient teacher. The pastor gave the address of the morning, placing special emphasis on the work of the Sunday School. His appeal to the adults—fathers and mothers—to give their hearty support to the Sunday School, not only to send their children but to come themselves and bear their share of the great work.

As was to have been expected the pageant given in the evening drew the largest crowd ever in the church. Every available nook and corner was filled. The pageant was given under the direction of Miss Hurd, and was a success far beyond all expectations. Everyone having a part gave their part well. The decorations and electrical effects gave it a much deeper impression than usual. The splendid work of the pastor, Mr. John Walsh and Mr. Albert Hill made a setting for the tableau that was imperative beyond what words can tell. The choir support by Prof. Young and several members of the Boys' Band, gave added interest and attractiveness to the program.

Now that the day has proven such a success the school feels that it can look forward to a great year's work. The organization is as good as can be secured. The arrangements for the children's department is ideal. Improvements will be made from time to time in the class rooms for the thirteen growing classes. The orchestra is growing and can be depended upon to add its part to the music. The officers and teachers of the school want it understood that they will not try to win anyone from other schools, this is not their plan. But they do desire and intend to do their utmost to win many of those who are not attending any school or church. This is the mission of the school and church, and with God's help they expect to do their part. Everybody is welcome and will be made to feel that the church has a real interest in them.

DENIAL OF WILSON'S CONDITION HINTED

Washington, October 13.—The question of making public a detailed diagnosis of President Wilson's condition to set at rest various reports now in circulation was to be discussed by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, Dr. Sterling Ruffin and Dr. E. T. Stitt at their regular conference this morning.

Grayson said he would take up the proposition with his colleagues. There was a chance, however, that the other doctors would not consent to such a statement, on the ground that no attention should be paid to rumors.

The doctors have agreed not to talk individually about the president's case and questions as to Wilson's condition must be taken up by all of them together.

CHILDREN WIN IN FIGHT FOR LIFE

Chicago, October 13.—Edna and Shirley Lukart apparently had won their battle with death today.

Both girls were growing stronger and, according to Dr. Thomas A. Carter, were throwing off the effects of poison administered by their insane mother.

Misses Laura and Jennie Potter of East Third street have returned home after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Parker of Georgetown, O., where they took in the fair.

ARRESTED IN FLEMING COUNTY AFTER CHASE

After a chase over a part of Fleming county, Chief of Police Harry A. Ort late this afternoon arrested Lee Anderson Politt, of Mt. Carmel, when near Fairview on charge of horse stealing. Politt had rented a horse and buggy from the Myall & Calvert Livery barn here Saturday to drive to Orangeburg. Instead of driving to Orangeburg, he went to several places in Fleming county carrying with him other Maysville people. On Sunday he drove the horse and buggy to Maysville and placed it in another local livery barn. This morning he took the horse and buggy out again and the officers went on his trail. He has been lodged in jail, the horse and buggy returned to its owners and he will be given an examination in Police Court Tuesday.

MAGAZINE EDITOR DIES

New York—Mrs. Sophia M'Ilvaine Bledsoe Herrick, who died at River-side, Conn., last Thursday, was one of the distinguished group of literary people that Ohio has given New York. In a game of baseball at the Infirmary grounds Sunday afternoon the East end team defeated the West end team by a score of 6 to 5. There is but one week left for candidates to get in the field, next Monday being the last day for filing petitions for the November election. It is thought that there will be many candidates for council show themselves this week.

The same reasons which lead a man to employ a lawyer, a physician or an architect, when he has need of the special services, which these men give, should impel him to turn to this bank in all matters of a fiduciary nature.

The safe and efficient management which this Bank gives costs you no more than similar services rendered by an individual, while the advantages of a corporation over an individual executor, guardian or trustee are manifold.

The most competent individual has only his own experience to qualify him. This Bank has large financial resources, the combined ability of all its officers, corporate integrity and composite judgment, unbiased by family or other influences.
